Welcome to Utrecht

Dear potential partner,

It is our great pleasure to invite you to the 23rd International Symposium on Pediatric Neuro-Oncology (ISPNO 2028), which will take place in Utrecht, the Netherlands, from June 24 - 27, 2028, at the Royal Jaarbeurs International Convention Center. ISPNO has grown into the largest and most important scientific meeting focused on pediatric central nervous system tumors.

ISPNO welcomes attendees from around the world, with delegates from more than 50 countries at the last ISPNO. It attracts clinicians and researchers from a wide range of disciplines including neuro-oncology, neurosurgery, radiation oncology, neurology, neuropathology, neuroradiology, neuropsychology, neuroscience, rehabilitation medicine, nursing, and more, as well as advocates and supporters of the pediatric neuro-oncology community. We expect to have close to 1,200 attendees in 2028. ISPNO 2028 will be hosted by the Princess Maxima Center for pediatric oncology, based in Utrecht.

The symposium will include a comprehensive scientific program covering the latest preclinical, translational, and clinical research updates on virtually all areas of pediatric neuro-oncology, including e.g. neurosurgery, diagnostics, AI, treatment and clinical trial advances, novel drug delivery systems, biomarkers, preclinical models, tumor microenvironment, cancer neuroscience, imaging, outcomes, and late effects. There will also be an Education Day, nursing sessions, keynote lectures, panel discussions on challenging issues in the field, and lunchtime symposia. We look forward to sharing this exciting experience with our sponsors. Please feel free to contact us or 'Congress by design' with questions about the meeting space, expected audience, supplementary materials, or to discuss anything in general.

Sincerely,

Prof Eelco Hoving & Prof Marcel Kool

CONGRESS BY DESIGN®

When science connects

Why Become a Sponsor?

Join a Global Community with a Shared Mission

Every child diagnosed with a brain tumour deserves access to the best possible care, the latest scientific advances, and hope for a better future.

Despite significant progress in cancer research, paediatric brain tumours remain one of the leading causes of cancer-related death in children worldwide. For many tumour types, substantial unmet medical needs still exist. Advancing outcomes requires innovation, collaboration, and a collective commitment from clinicians, researchers, industry, foundations, patient organisations, and society as a whole.

The Local Organising Committee of ISPNO 2028 warmly invites organisations from around the world to become part of this mission by supporting the International Symposium on Pediatric Neuro-Oncology.

By sponsoring ISPNO 2028, you are not only supporting a scientific congress – you are investing in a global community dedicated to improving the lives of children, adolescents, young adults, and families affected by brain tumours.

Help Shape the Future of Paediatric Neuro-Oncology

ISPNO is the leading international meeting place for experts committed to advancing research, treatment, supportive care, and survivorship in paediatric neuro-oncology. The congress creates a unique environment where groundbreaking discoveries are shared, new collaborations are formed, and innovative ideas are transformed into real-world impact. Together, we can accelerate progress for patients facing some of the most challenging diseases in childhood cancer.

Why Become a Sponsor?

Connect with the People Driving Change

ISPNO 2028 brings together a highly specialised international network of clinicians, scientists, translational researchers, clinical trial leaders, healthcare professionals, patient advocates, and emerging talent.

As a sponsor, you will have the opportunity to:

- Connect directly with leading paediatric neuro-oncology investigators and research groups
- Engage with international clinical trial networks and collaborative consortia
- Build relationships with decision-makers from leading hospitals, universities, and research institutes
- Exchange ideas with experts driving innovation in diagnostics, treatment, imaging, genomics, data science, and survivorship care

Be Visible. Be Involved. Make an Impact.

Visibility remains an important benefit of sponsorship, but ISPNO 2028 offers much more than brand exposure.

It provides an opportunity to demonstrate your organisation's commitment to advancing science, improving patient outcomes, and supporting a community working towards a common goal. Whether through exhibition participation, educational support, networking activities, or innovative partnership opportunities, your organisation can play a meaningful role in helping drive progress in the field.

Why Become a Sponsor?

Support the Next Generation

The future of paediatric neuro-oncology depends on the next generation of clinicians, researchers, and innovators.

ISPNO 2028 attracts fellows, early-career investigators, postgraduate students, and young healthcare professionals from across the globe. By supporting the congress, your organisation helps foster education, mentorship, collaboration, and scientific development for tomorrow's leaders.

Together We Can Make a Difference

ISPNO 2028 is more than a congress. It is a global gathering of people united by a shared purpose: improving outcomes and quality of life for children and families affected by brain tumours.

We invite you to join us as a partner in this mission and become part of a community that is driving meaningful change through innovation, collaboration, and dedication.

ISPNO in numbers

ISPNO 2028 will take place at the Royal Dutch Jaarbeurs, one of the Netherlands' leading event venues, centrally located in the heart of the country. Situated directly next to Utrecht Central Station, Jaarbeurs is exceptionally well connected by public transport and easily accessible for both national and international delegates.

With its modern facilities, flexible event spaces, and extensive experience in hosting large-scale international conferences, Jaarbeurs provides an excellent setting for ISPNO 2028. The venue offers a professional and welcoming environment that supports scientific exchange, networking, sponsor visibility, and meaningful interaction throughout the congress.

Its central location in Utrecht, combined with the city's vibrant atmosphere and strong accessibility, makes Jaarbeurs an ideal home for bringing together the global pediatric neuro-oncology community.
